

Economic violence

Conduct resulting in a woman's economic dependence on another person or in imposing an unwanted economic burden on her. It's a type of violence that increases a woman's dependence on her abuser.

Forbidding a woman to work.

Obsessive control over her expenses.

Depriving a woman of her salary and/or obliging her to ask for money for any type of expense.

Providing her with insufficient funds for her subsistence.

Cheating, stealing a woman's money or assets.

Forcing a woman to sign a collateral against a mortgage or a loan.
Denying her the documents needed to obtain ISEE (the document certifying the household's economic situation).